Comments: The potential increase of activity to Tinian is a great concern in regards to the Tinian Monarch which was deleted in 2004 - however w/any population decline could be relized under emergency regulation by the USFW - also if military activities decrease the population of monarchs it could cause adverse economic impact on the mariana people if they can't develop because of relisting of the monarch. Also, the monarch only occurs on Tinian + nowhere else in world - increased activity = increased BTS + great z increased habitat destruction.
